Integrity Policy

Varningsinfo in Sweden developed the app Mobinix with the intent to block incoming calls from telephone solicitors and businesses who conduct marketing surveys. This service is provided by Mobinix for a one-time fee which is specified before downloading of the app.

This page describes how Mobinix works and the extent to which we use or store user information.

People who decide to download Mobinix must confirm by phone that Mobinix is permitted to block incoming calls from the numbers that are included in the app. The purpose of this is so the user of the app can have the service continuously updated to prevent phone calls from additional numbers that are added to the blocked list. None of this user information is saved or stored.

The terms used in this Integrity Policy have the same meaning as in our Terms of Use, unless otherwise defined herein.

Collection of Information and Use
